Civil society: In 2014, 63 NGOs were approved by the General Committee to attend the Nineteenth Session of the Conference; however, only 22 NGOs attended the Conference. In 2015, only 52 NGOs were approved for the Twentieth Session of the Conference, but attendance increased to 40 NGOs. In 2016, 57 NGOs were approved and 43 NGOs attended the Twenty-First Session of the Conference. 2017 set an all-time record with 66 NGOs approved and 52 attending the Twenty-Second Session of the Conference. The OPCW enabled the participation of selected NGOs from developing and transitioning economies from 2015 to 2017 thanks to EU funds provided to the OPCW for this purpose (travel and accommodation costs). Each year since the Third Review Conference, representatives of civil society organisations have addressed Conference delegates during special plenary sittings. Chemical industry: OPCW's relationship with the chemical industry is highlighted on a dedicated page on the OPCW website. Moreover, chemical industry's partnership with the Organisation has been included as one of the milestones in the 20 Moments on the OPCW's 20th Anniversary website and featured on social media through a number of tweets from the "Do You Know" series and in support of 20th Anniversary campaigns throughout 2017. Scientific community: In November 2016 the OPCW highlighted the letter from IUPAC and more than 40 international and national scientific chemical societies from Africa, Europe, the Middle East, and North America, condemning the use of chemical weapons and reiterating support for the OPCW. Academia: The OPCW has continued to support the TMC Asser Summer Programme on Disarmament and Non-Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction in a Changing World, by providing programmatic support, expert speakers, and access to OPCW's HQ and Laboratory for participants. This programme targets academics, officials, industry representatives and NGOs who want to deepen their knowledge of WMD disarmament and non-proliferation, including in the field of chemical weapons. Civil society organisations as well as a chemical industry representative were invited to attend and present at the 8th meeting of the OEWG-RC on 16 May 2018.
