Presentation to 25th Session of the Conference of the States Parties (CSP)
Organisation for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons
The Hague, The Netherlands

Mister Chairman, Director-General, Distinguished Delegates, Ladies and Gentlemen,
I would like to emphasize that chemical weapons should be accepted as a humanitarian crime all over the world. With special contents for different age groups, it is necessary to keep this idea on the agenda in educational institutions, to raise awareness and to direct young minds in the right direction.

As an academic, I have been watching for years that awareness among young people is not enough. This issue should be free from political reservations and the sensitivity of young minds around the world should be increased. It is important to raise awareness of the world public in apolitical conditions.

It is the deprivation of people's right to life regardless of where and against whom. The most important improvement can be achieved by training of the mentalities that will become managers in the future. Only an informed public can prevent this. It cannot be avoided as long as it stays behind closed doors.

I propose the formation of an organised training team to raise awareness of young brains around the world as soon as possible. Thanks to the trainings given by this volunteer team, I think it should be started to create a strong public opinion in the world, especially among young people.

States Parties should start these training and awareness activities under a common responsibility and support this common behavior pattern.

Thank you for your kind attention, and I wish for this statement to be made part of the final CSP record and posted on the external server and website.
