NOTE BY THE TECHNICAL SECRETARIAT

INVITATION TO APPLY FOR AN ANALYTICAL-SKILLS DEVELOPMENT COURSE 2009

Purpose of the course

1. The Technical Secretariat (hereinafter “the Secretariat”) of the OPCW wishes to inform Member States that it will hold a course on the development of analytical skills in 2009. The course will be supported by the Secretariat and will be held at a specialised institution in Europe. The aim of the course is to assist qualified analytical chemists from Member States that are either developing or have economies in transition, in acquiring further experience and practical knowledge; to facilitate the analysis of chemicals related to national implementation of the Chemical Weapons Convention (hereinafter “the Convention”); to enhance national capacities in these Member States by offering training in analytical chemistry to personnel from industry, academic institutions, and government laboratories; to facilitate the adoption of good laboratory practices; and to broaden the pool of human resources from which National Authorities and the Secretariat can draw in the future. The course will accommodate 20 participants.

Duration of the course

2. The course is tentatively scheduled to be held in June or July 2009 and will last two weeks. Successful candidates will be informed of the exact dates, the venue, and other details of the course. They should be prepared to travel three or four days before the course begins in order to be able to register and complete pre-course formalities in time.

Content

3. The course will have two parts:
 - (a) The first week will be focused on basic training and on providing hands-on experience in gas chromatography (GC) and gas chromatography-mass spectrometry (GC-MS). Participants will receive theoretical and practical training in GC and GC-MS, covering hardware, system validation and optimisation, and trouble-shooting.

- (b) The focus during the second week will be on the preparation of environmental samples and on GC and GC-MS analyses of such samples for chemicals related to the Convention. During this week, participants will be provided with intensive hands-on training in the preparation of different sample matrices for later analysis by GC with element-selective detectors and by GC-MS in electron-impact and chemical-ionisation modes. Participants will also be introduced to a range of extraction, clean-up, and derivatisation procedures.

Sponsorship

- 4. The cost of the course, and of accommodation for all participants, will be covered by the Secretariat. In addition, the Secretariat will pay for international travel, meals, and medical and travel insurance for all participants while the course is being conducted, as per OPCW rules.

Admission requirements

- 5. The course is open to those who:
 - (a) have a minimum of a first degree (B.Sc. or equivalent) in chemistry or analytical chemistry from a recognised university or institution, with relevant practical and theoretical experience in analytical chemistry, including GC and GC-MS;
 - (b) are citizens of Member States that either are developing or have economies in transition; and
 - (c) have been working in a chemical laboratory or research institution in their home country for at least five years.
- 6. The course will be conducted in English. Candidates must therefore have a strong command of both written and spoken English. Any candidate who is found, upon arrival, not to meet this requirement might not be allowed to continue in the course.
- 7. Participants will be required to sign both a set of terms and conditions for participation in the course and a confidentiality agreement with the OPCW.

Selection procedure

- 8. Applications will be carefully screened on the basis of the criteria specified in paragraph 5 above. Only the most suitable applicants will be interviewed. Eligible candidates from laboratories that have sought or are receiving support under the Laboratory Assistance Programme are especially encouraged to apply.

Application procedure

9. Interested candidates are invited to fill out, in English only, the form that is annexed to this Note and to submit it to the Secretariat, via their National Authority or the Permanent Representation of their country to the OPCW, allowing enough time for the Secretariat to receive it no later than 9 February 2009.
